United States equivalence

The Diploma of Specialist described above represents the completion of five years of university study. It is equivalent to a bachelor's degree and a master's degree in mathematics earned at a regionally accredited institution of higher education in the United States.

The supplement to the diploma lists 54 courses and a thesis. Grade average on the United States scale: 3.71 of 4.00.

Remarks

The credential is in the holder's name before marriage. A certificate of marriage dated August 16, 2008 was presented with the diploma. This evaluation is advisory and is based on the original diploma and its supplement with a certified English translation.

The final decision on recognition rests with the employer, school or licensing board that receives this report. The report is not valid without the evaluator's signature. We keep the file for five years and can send certified copies on request.
